Our Letter to You

Greetings from Grace Works Initiative! We are very excited to share with you our 2014 Performance Report. Whether you have been a part of Grace Works Initiative from the beginning or this is your first exposure to our organization, we hope you will find this report with helpful information about our focus area, our progress and most importantly the communities we serve, who inspire us each and every day with their hard work and determination to improve the world around them.

What is unique about our 2014 report?

- We have designed this report to give you a quick snapshot of the key milestones our organization achieved in the period 2014.
- Because our very existence is to promote rural access to sustainable life-saving healthcare, we take rigorous measurement very seriously. We have a fairly good start, but we are investing much more in 2015.

As you will see, 2014 was a year of great challenge and opportunity. We are proud to report that we managed to create positive impact around the country.

Our major milestones include; the emergency relief program for South Sudan Refugees living in Northern Uganda. We reached out to 500 women & girls in Rhino Camp, Arua District with Menstrual Hygiene Management support.

We carried out an awareness program on Female Genital Mutilation; touching Karamojja region. We published a Book; Voice in the Jungle – addressing in-depth, the cultural crisis of Female Genital Mutilation, child marriage & girl education.

We launched a Village Healthcare program in Bukomolo Village, Eastern Uganda. Currently, we are constructing a health clinic to serve a population of about 20,000 people. Now, because of you, there is no doubt that 2015 will be a year of doubling our achievements.

On behalf of all the communities we serve, and our strong dedicated staff, thank you!

Emergency Relief program for South Sudan Refugees

Sarah Nyatule, 16 (above) has no friend or family in Uganda. She is a refugee from South Sudan. She lives in Rhino Camp in Arua district.

Many girls & women in active age in Nyatule's refugee camp face very high risk of infections and even violence because of inadequate access to proper menstrual sanitary care.

In 2014 Grace Works Initiative reached 500 women & girls with Menstrual Hygiene Management kits as an intervention to save women and girls from infections and reproductive health problems as well as stigma.

GWI envisions a future where women and adolescent girls in hard situations can live in an environment that is not only free from stigma and genetic infections but also that provides them with a proper hygienic lifestyle.

FGM Awareness program for Karamoja

In Nanganit village, Amudat District is a home of 65 year old Theresa (left). Theresa is a childhood victim of Female Genital Mutilation and she hardly walks because of the disabilities she got in both legs.

In Theresa's region of Karamoja many young girls have succumbed to FGM living many disabled, traumatized or dead.

GWI is now raising awareness about FGM. We have published a book titled "Voice in the Jungle"- addressing in-depth, the cultural crisis of Female Genital Mutilation, child marriage & girl education.

We want you to join us in helping victims like Theresa and the region as a whole through our programs of Training and Counseling.

Village Healthcare program for Bukomolo Village

About 250 kilometers from Kampala, Uganda's capital city, is Bukomolo Village, located in a rural Kibuku District but borders more two districts of Pallisa and Budaka. People in and around Bukomolo have limited access to health care. They have to walk at least 10 miles to access a medical facility for treatment. Women & Children are mostly affected.

Grace Works Initiative is now running a village healthcare program in this community. We have launched an initial project to construct and equip a community health center which will be staffed by health professionals to provide; outpatient services, preventive services including vaccination, maternity, HIV/AIDS, health education, emergency care and inpatient services.

Our aim is to drive down infant & maternal mortality, and make primary health services available to these rural inhabitants.
